HEARNES' COMPETENCE IN CRISIS

The Kansas City rioting last week was a bitter outbreak of violent lawlessness, causing a half dozen deaths, more than 100 incendiary fires and some $500,000 wanton damage. It could have been far worse had it not been for the dispatch and judgment of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

He lost no time in calling out the Missouri National Guard, which performed in well-trained competence, and a large segment of the State Highway Patrol. The Governor was on the scene soon after the ugly depredations started and he

Obviously under orders to shoot looters, the guardsmen held big-scale plundering to minimum, often under a hall of sniper fire.

Police operated ably but could never have handled the situation if the militia had not been on hand in adequate force. And the Governor made it known he would call out as many more units of the Guard

There was obviously no lack of decision to stamp out the riot, and it did not take long for the Governor's determination to be recognized.

Commendation is due Kansas City police authorities, the state Guard, the Highway Patrol and Gov. Hearnes for the effective way they checked spread of the street crisis and restored order to an afflicted community.

TO PRESERVE VALUES. UPHOLD THE LAW

As Supreme Court decisions move farther and farther away from the Constitution, the Court displays that it often does not interpret the law, but changes it. The explanation is that changing times and changing circumstances call for changing philosophy. Yet the great task of statesmanship and of a sound Supreme Court is not to make over the law and the Constitution in the name of changing times, but to preserve American values in changing times by upholding the law and the Constitution. The U.S. Supreme Court seems to be departing from this path.

A great deal of publicity has been given to Supreme Court interference in the conduct of local schools in such areas as pupil placement and class prayers.

A ruling against the churches would seriously damage the finances of a majority of churches in America. The mother is an atheist; her son figured heavily in one prayer decision case.

Of equal or greater importance are Supreme Court limitations on the punishment, deterrence and prevention of crime.

The police chief of Washington, D.C., stated that the Supreme Court decision in the Mallory case, which severely curtailed the right of city police to question a suspect, is the greatest single cause for the recent rise of street crimes in the nation's capital. On an appeal by two persons convicted and sentenced to death for rape, three Supreme Court Justices said the appeal ought to be heard on the question of whether the death sentence for rape would be allowed. The majority of the Court voted not to hear the appeal. However, Mr. Justice Goldberg, speaking for the three, insisted that the Supreme Court should consider whether the death penalty for rape violated "the evolving standards of decency that mark the progress of maturing society."

What are these "evolving standards?" Clearly, whatever the Supreme Court says they are. Perhaps these are some who expect that a "mature society" with "evolving standards" will not feel the age-old shock at the crime of one of the appellants: the criminal assault of a nine-yearold girl. Perhaps there are some who sincerely believe that one of the marks of progress in a "maturing society" is a greater feeling for the criminal. But until such persons with such views are in the majority and can prove it, this set of "evolving standards" should not be imposed on the rest of us through the orders of a Court which sees fit to write its theories into the law and the Constitution.

It is true that only three of the nine Justices held that the Supreme Court should consider abolishing the death penalty for rape. But the addition of two more of their mind would make their views law.

This points up all the more clearly the prime duty of patriots and constructives combatting this trend toward judicial authorship in defiance of established law. It is important to know where we are heading, but it is equally important to know what to do about it.

Every appointment of a justice is almost equal in importance to a Presidential nomination, and should be examined closely.

Justices should be sought out and recommended who believe in the primacy of the Constitution and the laws as written, unless or until changed by the sovereign people. Constructive lawyers and judges should promote the best among them for high judicial office. Active patriots should enthusiastically support these men and the sound might look into, when he isn't decided to produce some wom- tising to the retail trade. Coast-to-coast driving without a traffic light or stop sign will be possible when the 41,000mile Interstate Highway System is completed in 1974. The superhighways will link 90 per cent of the nation's major cities. Already, almost 60 per cent of the total mileage is open to traffic, and the remaining 40 per cent is in progress.

TO PRESERVE VALUES, UPHOLD THE LAW

As Supreme Court decisions move farther and farther away from the Constitution, the Court displays that it often does not interpret the law, but changes it. The explanation is that changing times and changing circumstances call for changing philosophy. Yet the great task of statesmanship and of a sound Supreme Court is not to make over the law and the Constitution in the name of changing times, but to preserve American values in changing times by upholding the law and the Constitution. The U.S. Supreme Court seems to be departing from this path.

Of equal or greater importance are Supreme Court limitations on the punishment, deterrence and prevention of crime. The police chief of Washington, D.C., stated that the Supreme Court decision in the Mallory case, which severely curtailed the right of city police to question a suspect, is the greatest single cause for the recent rise of street crimes in the nation's capital.

On an appeal by two persons convicted and sentenced to death for rape, three Supreme Court Justices said the appeal ought to be heard on the question of whether the death sentence for rape would be allowed. Mr. Justice Goldberg, speaking for the three, insisted that the Supreme Court should consider whether the death penalty for rape violated "the evolving standards of decency that mark the progress of maturing society."

What are these "evolving standards?" Clearly, whatever the Supreme Court says they are. Perhaps these are some who expect that a "ma-One way the married women prove they are ture society" with "evolving standards" will not feel the age-old shock at the crime of one of the appellants: the criminal assault of a nine-yearold girl. Perhaps there are some who sincerely believe that one of the marks of progress in a "maturing society" is a greater feeling for the criminal. But until such persons with such views are in the majority and can prove it, this set of "evolving standards" should not be imposed on which sees fit to write its theories into the law

It is true that only three of the nine Justices held that the Supreme Court should consider abolishing the death penalty for rape. But the addition of two more of their mind would make their views law.

This points up all the more clearly the prime duty of patriots and constructives combatting this trend toward judicial authorship in defiance of Police operated ably but could never have handled established law. It is important to know where we are heading, but it is equally important to know what to do about it.

Every appointment of a justice is almost equal in importance to a Presidential nomination, and should be examined closely.

The POWER of FAITH BY WOOD! ISHMAEL

'They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters; These see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep." Psalm 107, 23:24.

Commodore Leroy J. Alexanderson, Master of the S.S. United States, the fastest luxury liner on the high seas, has for 40 years seen and known the "works of the Lord." Of those years, 38 were spent as an officer in the Merchant Marine and in the U.S. Navy, where he is a Rear Admiral in the Reserve.

In his dedication to the sea he has also been dedicated to man's safety at sea. As in a foxhole there are no atheists, so he believes it is on the bridge of a ship. "When going into an unknown port or traveling in a dense fog one must have faith, and there is some

A loyal Catholic and family man, the Commodore says that the love and devotion of an understanding wife has much to do with the success of a man at sea, for such a wife makes sure that nothing deters him from his duty and his concern for his ship, his passengers and crew. If you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because you have eight kids and it isn't big enough, you have our sympathy.

If you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because it isn't fancy enough, that's for you to decide.

But if you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because you're used to an automatic transmission, listen

Now you can drive a Volkswagen all over town

We call this new option the automatic stick shift. And in true Volkswagen fashion, a bug with an automatic stick shift will deliver up to 25 miles on a gallon of gas, use very little oil, and nary a drop of water or antifreeze.

But just because we've made it easy to drive, doesn't mean we're about to make it any prettier, or any bigger, or any fancier. So we imagine some people will still refuse to drive Volkswagens.

Judge Refuses To Fine Man For Vagrancy

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. AP -Magistrate Court Judge E. A. Barbour Wednesday dismissed a vagrancy charge against Jesse Eugene Gonce, 31, of Harrison, Ark., and recalled he was financially "hard up" once. "You can't arrest a man for being broke," Barbour said. "I remember once in Jefferson City I was out of money and I hitchhiked to Lebanon. "I was a state senator then, incidentally," the judge said.

The steady escalation of U.S. forces in Vietnam will take another massive leap upward if the administration agrees to reported military requests for an additional 50,000-100,000 men. U.S. troops now number some 495,000 with the current ceiling set at 525,000. Communist forces now in the field are estimated at about 330,000 with another 300,000 available in North Vietnam.

Carefree

youngsters, sit at ease and watch the fun. in 1968 you can turn over your flower garden to a race of Carefree geraniums that will just about take care of themselves.

Carefree - that's a welcome word for 1968 gardeners. It refers to a new race of geraniums of which 3 different colors have won All-America Selections awards: 2 silver medals and 1 bronze

What makes these geraniums carefree? First, their freedom from the usual geranium diseases. Because they are grown from seeds rather than from cuttings, they do not inherit troubles from the parent plant.

Next, their strong and rapid growth. You never saw geraniums grow so fast! These characteristics are results of their hybrid

Third, their self-branching habit. As they grow they produce numerous side branches without any help. There is no need to pinch out tips in order to make plants grow bushy and compact. Fourth, their bloom production which, after all is your reason for growing geraniums. The Carefrees will produce 2 or 3 flower heads for every one that grows on an ordinary geranium. Individual florets are as large as those of the finest geranium

Carefree Deep Salmon, but there also are light salmon, scarlet and white in the range of Carefree geraniums. In addition, there's the prettiest Picotee, white with pink petal edges.

Thus you can select, without a care in the world, your favorite geranium color from among those in this vigorous new strain.

Growing geraniums from seeds is profitable. Top left, broken flower pots are placed in flat for drainage, soil mixture sieved on top. Bottom left, layer of milled sphagnum moss was added and seeds sown in it for disease prevention. Rows are being marked. Top right, seedlings are ready to transplant. Bottom right, transplanted! Soon they'll be set in the garden.

The steady escalation of U.S. forces in Vietnam will take another massive leap upward if the administration agrees to reported military requests for an additional 50,000-100,000 men. U.S. troops now number some 495,000 with the current ceiling set at 525,000. Communist forces now in the field are estimated at about 330,000 with another 300,000 available in North Vietnam.

Carefree

Play with the youngsters, sit at ease and watch the fun. in 1968 you can turn over your flower garden to a race of Carefree geraniums that will just about take care of themselves.

Carefree - that's a welcome word for 1968 gardeners. It refers to a new race of geraniums of which 3 different colors have won All-America Selections awards: 2 silver medals and 1 bronze

What makes these geraniums carefree? First, their freedom from the usual geranium diseases. Because they are grown from seeds rather than from cuttings, they do not inherit troubles from Next, their strong and rapid growth. You never saw geraniums grow so fast! These characteristics are results of their hybrid

Third, their self-branching habit. As they grow they produce numerous side branches without any help. There is no need to pinch out tips in order to make plants grow bushy and compact. Fourth, their bloom production which, after all is your reason for growing geraniums. The Carefrees will produce 2 or 3 flower heads for every one that grows on an ordinary geranium. Individual florets are as large as those of the finest geranium varieties; flower heads often are larger.

Fifth, their color range. The silver medal winners are Carefree Scarlet and Carefree Bright Pink; the bronze medal winner, Carefree Deep Salmon, but there also are light salmon, scarlet and white in the range of Carefree geraniums. In addition, there's the prettiest Picotee, white with pink petal edges.

Thus you can select, without a care in the world, your favorite geranium color from among those in this vigorous new strain.

The whole matter started with Jacob Beam-who would be 200 years old this yearand a secret he discovered.

The secret, in the case of Jim Beam Bourbon, goes back to 1795, and it is still hushhush today. The secret lay in the heart of Kentucky where there was, and is today, the right combination for pleasure. The right land. The right climate: the perfect Bourbon

If You Were the Judge

Promise to Marry Can Be Illegal

By Jack Strauss, LL.B. Grover was so smooth, he could talk an Eskimo into buying ice in winter. Consequently, when he met shapely Sally, he had no trouble talking her into letting him set up an apartment for her on the promise that he would marry her. His promise, naturally, carried a lot of wait. Already married, he never quite got around to divorcing his wife. In fact, before Sally could get him to stand up before a minister, he was laid out in front of one when he inconsiderately died. Indignant, Sally sued Grover's estate for damages claiming that he had defrauded her. "When he told me that he was going to marry me," she complained to a judge, "Grover lied like a rug. He just wanted the pleasure of being my husband without ever intending to marry me. He should have a big tombstone because he was a monumental liar." "It serves her right," retorted the administrator of Grover's estate. "if she relied on Grover's promise, she had only herself to blame. A single girl should know better than to believe the promises of a romantically inclined married man." IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make the estate pay for Grover's unkept promise

This is how the judge ruled; No! The judge held that an agreement by a married man to marry another woman is, in effect, an agreement to obtain a divorce and an agreement to obtain a divorce is against public policy and void. Consequently, concluded the judge, Grover's promise was illegal and a person cannot base a lawsuit on an illegal promise. (Based upon a 1961 California Decision)

This is how the judge ruled; No! The judge held that an agreement by a married man to marry another woman is, in effect, an agreement to obtain a divorce and an agreement to obtain a divorce is against public policy and void. Consequently, concluded the judge, Grover's promise was illegal and a person cannot base a lawsuit on an illegal promise. (Based upon a 1961 California Decision)

You'll Love an ELECTRIC DRY FOR PERMANENT PRESS CLOTHING!

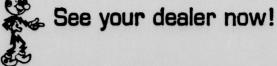

Permanent Press needs a dryer. In fact, manufacturers emphasize that a dryer should be used for Permanent Press garments. Why? Because these new fabrics need accurately controlled drying, in gentle heat, to come out looking freshly-ironed without ironing.

Because an electric dryer is FLAMELESS, you're assured of accurately controlled, gentle heat. There are no "hot spots" to set wrinkles because uniform electric heat relaxes fibers - while gentle tumbling smoothes wrinkles. And, in motion as they are cooled, retaining their flat seams and sharp creases. They look neat and smooth without ironing. An electric dryer is the perfect dryer for Permanent Press garments - and perfect for anything else you dry! Drying clothes electrically is economical, too. It costs an average family less than $2 a month. The dryer itself costs up to $40 LESS than a dryer that isn't FLAMELESS. And a FREE Wiring Allowance covers the cost of installation for most people.

You'll Love an ELECTRIC DRYER FOR PERMANENT PRESS CLOTHING!

Permanent Press needs a dryer. In fact, manufacturers emphasize that a dryer should be used for Permanent Press garments. Why? Because these new fabrics need accurately controlled drying, in gentle heat, to come out looking freshly-ironed without ironing.

Because an electric dryer is FLAMELESS, you're assured of accurately controlled, gentle heat. There are no "hot spots" to set wrinkles because uniform electric heat relaxes fibers - while gentle tumbling smoothes wrinkles. And,

in motion as they are cooled, retaining their flat seams and sharp creases. They look neat and smooth without ironing. An electric dryer is the perfect dryer for Permanent Press garments — and perfect for anything else you dry! Drying clothes electrically is economical, too. It costs an average family less than $2 a month. The dryer itself costs up to $40 LESS than a dryer that isn't FLAMELESS. And a FREE Wiring Allowance covers the cost of installation for most people.

Permanent Press garments are kept

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States, indicating grow. ing impatience with the impasse over where to make initial peace contacts with North Vietnam, is looking to Hanoi for a speedy reply to the latest American proposal listing 10 new potential sites.

Aithough the new U.S. proposal raised to 15 the number of nations it lists as acceptable loca. tions for such talks, diplomatic sources in Washington were betting that Paris- not included in the newly padded total-would eventually be agreed on by both countries.

These diplomats, including some from nations allied with the United States in the War, reasoned that since neither Washington nor Hanoi has mentioned Paris as a possible site its compromise selection would result in neither side losing Premier Alexei N. Kosygin andicated how important such a ace-saving compromise might be to Hanoi when he said Thursjay in Rawalpindi, Pakistan, that North Vietnam will conduct peace talks "as a nation that has not been vanquished, that has not been defeated."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk called late Thursday on Hanoi to give a "serious and responsive answer" to the U.S. proposals for preliminary talks on peace negotiations.

Rusk warned Hanoi that U.S. restraint in restricting the bombing of North Vietnam on March 31 was meant to inspire discussions on ending the war and not be an excuse for what le called propaganda warfare hile the battle went on.

HEARNES' COMPETENCE IN CRISIS

The Kansas City rioting last week was a bitter outbreak of violent lawlessness, causing a half dozen deaths, more than 100 incendiary fires and some $500,000 wanton damage. It could have been far worse had it not been for the dispatch and the rest of us through the orders of a Court judgment of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

He lost no time in calling out the Missouri National Guard, which performed in well-trained competence, and a large segment of the State Highway Patrol. The Governor was on the scene soon after the ugly depredations started and he

Obviously under orders to shoot looters, the guardsmen held big-scale plundering to minimum, often under a hall of sniper fire.

Police operated ably but could never have handled the situation if the militia had not been on hand in adequate force. And the Governor made it known he would call out as many more units of the Guard as were needed.

There was obviously no lack of decision to stamp out the riot, and it did not take long for the Governor's determination to be recognized.

Commendation is due Kansas City police authorities, the state Guard, the Highway Patrol and Gov. Hearnes for the effective way they checked spread flicted community.

TO PRESERVE VALUES. UPHOLD THE LAW

As Supreme Court decisions move farther and farther away from the Constitution, the Court displays that it often does not interpret the law, but changes it. The explanation is that changing times and changing circumstances call for changing philosophy. Yet the great task of statesmanship and of a sound Supreme Court is not to make over the law and the Constitution in the name of changing times, but to preserve American values in changing times by upholding the law and the Constitution. The U.S. Supreme Court seems to be departing from this path.

A great deal of publicity has been given to Supreme Court interference in the conduct of local schools in such areas as pupil placement and class prayers.

"The breach of neutrality that is today a trickling stream may all too soon become a raging torrent and, in the words of Madison, "it is proper to take alarm at the first experiment on

A suit has been filed in Los Angeles seeking to have the words "under God" stricken from the Pledge of Allegiance. No longer are the words on our coins and in the second verse of the National Anthem, "In God We Trust," safe.

Has the court reaped a raging torrent which will cause state religious "neutrality" to reverse to a torrent of nonreligion across a broad base of

Of equal or greater importance are Supreme Court limitations on the punishment, deterrence and prevention of crime.

The police chief of Washington, D.C., stated that the Supreme Court decision in the Mallory case, which severely curtailed the right of city police to question a suspect, is the greatest single cause for the recent rise of street crimes in the nation's capital.

On an appeal by two persons convicted and sentenced to death for rape, three Supreme Court Justices said the appeal ought to be heard on the question of whether the death sentence for rape would be allowed. The majority of the by Senator Thomas J. He wants to prove that his father was a socialist; tow advised him to be tough. Otepka wrong.

Mr. Justice Goldberg, speaking for the three, insisted that the Supreme Court should consider whether the death penalty for rape violated "the evolving standards of decency that mark the progress of maturing society."

What are these "evolving standards?" Clearly, whatever the Supreme Court says they are.

Perhaps these are some who expect that a "mature society" with "evolving standards" will not feel the age-old shock at the crime of one of the appellants: the criminal assault of a nine-yearold girl. Perhaps there are some who sincerely believe that one of the marks of progress in a "maturing society" is a greater feeling for the criminal. But until such persons with such views are in the majority and can prove it, this set of "evolving standards" should not be imposed on which sees fit to write its theories into the law and the Constitution.

It is true that only three of the nine Justices held that the Supreme Court should consider abolishing the death penalty for rape. But the addition of two more of their mind would make their views law.

This points up all the more clearly the prime duty of patriots and constructives combatting this trend toward judicial authorship in defiance of established law. It is important to know where we are heading, but it is equally important to know what to do about it.

Every appointment of a justice is almost equal in importance to a Presidential nomination, and should be examined closely.

Justices should be sought out and recommended who believe in the primacy of the Constitution and the laws as written, unless or until changed by the sovereign people. Constructive lawyers and judges should promote the best among them of the street crisis and restored order to an af- for high judicial office. Active patriots should enthusiastically support these men and the sound Globe-Democrat view of law they hold.

Men cannot destroy law; they can only abandon game at American business. Heard at the coffee table: "A man who is on a it. When they do so, it is not law but man who

The POWER of FAITH BY WOODI ISHMAEI

'They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters; These see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep." Psalm 107, 23:24

Commodore Leroy J. Alexanderson, Master of the S.S. United States, the fastest luxury liner on the high seas, has for 40 years seen and known the "works of the Lord." Of those years, 38 were spent as an officer in the Merchant Marine and in the U.S. Navy, where he is a Rear Admiral in the Reserve. In his dedication to the sea he has also been dedicated to man's safety at sea. As in a foxhole there are no atheists, so he believes it is on the bridge of a ship. "When going into an unknown port or traveling in a dense fog one must have faith, and there is some

A loyal Catholic and family man, the Commodore says that the love and devotion of an understanding wife has much to do with the success of a man at sea, for such a wife makes sure that nothing deters him from his duty and his concern for his ship, his passengers and crew. Commodore Alexanderson knows, as do all great men of the sea, that there is a power greater than themselves that sees them through. It is the power have our sympathy. If you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because it isn't fancy enough, that's for you to decide.

But if you refuse to drive a Volkswagen because you're used to an automatic transmission, listen

Now you can drive a Volkswagen all over town

without shifting.

We call this new option the automatic stick shift. And in true Volkswagen fashion, a bug with an automatic stick shift will deliver up to 25 miles on a gallon of gas, use very little oil, and nary a drop of water or antifreeze.

But just because we've made it easy to drive, doesn't mean we're about to make it any prettier, or any bigger, or any fancier. So we imagine some people will still refuse to drive Volkswagens.

You can't win them all.

Judge Refuses To Fine Man For Vagrancy

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. AP -Magistrate Court Judge E. A. Barbour Wednesday dismissed a vagrancy charge against Jesse Eugene Gonce, 31, of Harrison, Ark, and recalled he was financially "hard up" once. "You can't arrest a man for being broke," Barbour said. "I remember once in Jefferson City I was out of money and I hitchhiked to Lebanon.

"I was a state senator then, incidentally," the judge said.

Carefree

Play with the youngsters, sit at ease and watch the fun. For in 1968 you can turn over your flower garden to a race of Carefree geraniums that will just about take care of themselves.

Carefree — that's a welcome word for 1968 gardeners. It refers to a new race of geraniums of which 3 different colors have won All-America Selections awards: 2 silver medals and 1 bronze

What makes these geraniums carefree? First, their freedom from the usual geranium diseases. Because they are grown from seeds rather than from cuttings, they do not inherit troubles from numerous side branches without any help. There is no need to pinch out tips in order to make plants grow bushy and compact. Fourth, their bloom production which, after all is your reason for growing geraniums. The Carefrees will produce 2 or 3 flower heads for every one that grows on an ordinary geranium. Individual florets are as large as those of the finest geranium varieties; flower heads often are larger.

Next, their strong and rapid growth. You never saw geraniums grow so fast! These characteristics are results of their hybrid

Fifth, their color range. The silver medal winners are Carefree Scarlet and Carefree Bright Pink; the bronze medal winner, Carefree Deep Salmon, but there also are light salmon, scarlet and white in the range of Carefree geraniums. In addition, there's the prettiest Picotee, white with pink petal edges.

World's Finest Bourbon a 173-Year-Old Secret

you can call yourself the world's finest anything you'd better have a case in your favor.

Jim Beam Bourbon has that "case."

The whole matter started with Jacob Beam - who would be 200 years old this year and a secret he discovered. The secret, in the case of Jim Beam Bourbon, goes back to 1795, and it is still hushhush today. The secret lay in the heart of Kentucky where there was, and is today, the right combination for pleasure. The right land. The right climate: the perfect Bourbon formula.

In north central Kentucky, Jacob Beam found clean ironfree water water that came from limestone springs considered the very finest Ream set out to make

If You Were the Judge

Promise to Marry Can Be Illegal

By Jack Strauss, LL.B. Grover was so smooth, he could talk an Eskimo into buying ice in winter. Consequently, when he met shapely Sally, he had no trouble talking her into letting him set up an apartment for her on the promise that he would marry her. His promise, naturally, carried a lot of wait. Already married, he never quite got around to divorcing his wife. In fact, before Sally could get him to stand up before a minister, he was laid out in front of one when he inconsiderately died. Indignant, Sally sued Grover's estate for damages claiming that he had defrauded her. "When he told me that he was going to marry me," she complained to a judge, "Grover lied like a rug. He just wanted the pleasure of being my husband without ever intending to marry me. He should have a big tombstone because he was a monumental liar." "It serves her right," retorted the administrator of Grover's estate. "if she relied on Grover's promise, she had only herself to blame. A single girl should know better than to believe the promises of a romantically inclined married man."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you make the estate pay for Grover's unkept promise?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that an agreement by a married man to marry another woman is, in effect, an agreement to obtain a divorce and an agreement to obtain a divorce is against public policy and void. Consequently, concluded the judge, Grover's promise was illegal and a person cannot base a lawsuit on an illegal promise. (Based upon a 1961 California Decision)

IF YOU HATE

You'll Love an ELECTRIC DRYER FOR PERMANENT PRESS CLOTHING!

Permanent Press needs a dryer. In fact, manufacturers emphasize that a dryer should be used for Permanent Press garments. Why? Because these new fabrics need accurately controlled drying, in gentle heat, to come out looking freshly-ironed without ironing.

Because an electric dryer is FLAMELESS, you're assured of accurately controlled, gentle heat. There are no "hot spots" to set wrinkles because uniform electric heat relaxes fibers - while gentle tumbling smoothes wrinkles. And, in motion as they are cooled, retaining their flat seams and sharp creases. They look neat and smooth without ironing. An electric dryer is the perfect dryer for Permanent Press garments - and perfect for anything else you dry! Drying clothes electrically is economical, too. It costs an average family less than $2 a month. The dryer itself costs up to $40 LESS than a dryer that isn't FLAMELESS. And a FREE Wiring Allowance covers the cost of installation for most people.
